We work collaboratively with your organisation's key stakeholders, from concept stage to solution, design and implementation.

Critical Event Management

Helping you respond quicker

Critical events pose a huge impact on the operations of any industry; particularly technology, telecommunications and utility providers. Critical events can range from severe weather and natural disasters to cyber attacks and major service outages. When an operation failure occurs, it is vital for providers to have the mechanisms in place to ensure employee safety and mitigate the financial fall out. Consutel Solutions can help organisations implement end-to-end CEM solutions that cover incident management and an operational or emergency notifications/alert system.

- Reduced enterprise and employee risk exposure through an outcome-driven CEM
- Scalable CEM solution that grows with your organisation and adapts to the real world
- Reduced downtime cost through operational efficiency measures that protect your bottom line
